B. Data processing by third parties

13. web analysis

13.1 Google Analytics

(1) OLBRICH has integrated Google Analytics on its website. Google Analytics is a web analysis service offered by Google Inc., 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA (hereinafter "Google").

(2) Google Analytics uses "cookies", which are text files placed on the user's computer, to help the website analyze how users use the site. The information generated by the cookie about the use of these web pages by the user is usually transmitted to a Google server in the USA and stored there.

(3) IP anonymization is activated on the OLBRICH website so that the IP address of users is shortened beforehand by Google within member states of the European Union or in other contracting states to the Agreement on the European Economic Area. Only in exceptional cases is the full IP address transmitted to a Google server in the USA and shortened there, so that data processing can take place outside the European Union. In this case, the transmission of the personal data collected by means of Google Analytics takes place in the USA.

(4) We would like to point out that the use of cookies for the purpose of data processing within the framework of Google Analytics is legally permissible only on the basis of prior consent by the user in accordance with Articles 44 and 49 para 1 lit. a) GDPR. You will therefore be asked to give your consent to this as part of the consent management used by Verlag OLBRICH.

(5) The user can generally prevent the storage of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on the Internet browser used. In addition, the user can prevent the collection and transmission of data generated by the cookie and related to his use of the website (including his IP address) to Google and the processing of this data by Google by downloading and installing the browser add-on to disable Google Analytics JavaScript (ga.js, analytics.js, dc.js) available at the following link: <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout?hl=de>.

However, we would like to point out that in this case you may not be able to use all functions of this website to their full extent.

(6) OLBRICH also uses Google Analytics in connection with AdWords advertisements for statistical purposes. The legal basis for this processing is the consent of the user. If you do not wish to have your data processed by Google even if you have given your consent, you can deactivate this via the Ads Preferences Manager (<https://adssettings.google.com/>) on the Google website.

(7) OLBRICH points out that the type and scope of the use of your personal data by Google cannot be influenced or determined by OLBRICH. We therefore recommend that you limit this processing by setting your privacy accordingly within the scope of your browser configuration, insofar as you wish to do so.

(8) Further information and the applicable data protection provisions of Google can be found at <https://www.google.de/intl/de/policies/privacy/> and at <http://www.google.com/analytics/terms/de.html>.

(9) The processing is carried out on the basis of Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a) GDPR insofar as the consent includes the storage of cookies or access to information in the user's terminal device (e.g. device fingerprinting). The consent can be revoked voluntarily at any time. If you do not give your consent, you may not be able to use certain functionalities.

13.2 Google Tag Manager

(1) This website uses Google Tag Manager as part of Google Analytics. Tags are small code elements on our website that are used, among other things, to measure traffic and visitor behavior, to record the impact of online advertising and social media, to use remarketing and targeting, and to test and optimize the website. Google Tag Manager is a solution that allows Busch to manage website tags through one interface. The Tag Manager tool itself (which implements the tags) is a cookie-less domain. The tool takes care of triggering other tags, which in turn may collect data. Google Tag Manager does not access this data. If a deactivation has been made at the domain or cookie level, it remains in place for all tracking tags implemented with Google Tag Manager.

(2) Further information on Google Tag Manager can be found on the Internet at: <https://www.google.com/analytics/tag-manager/use-policy/>.

13.3 Matomo

(1) We use Matomo Analytics. The third-party provider is Matomo, headquartered in Wellington, 7 Waterloo Quay, Pipitea, New Zealand and with a branch office in Luisenstr 5, 79098 Freiburg im Breisgau, Germany.

(2) Matomo Analytics (formerly Piwik) is an analysis program that allows us to analyze user flows on our website. The IP addresses are automatically anonymized (IP masking), so that an assignment to individual users is not possible. The use of cookies is deactivated by default. The servers are located in Germany.

(3) The legal basis is our legitimate interests in quality assurance and optimization of the website (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f) GDPR).

(4) The privacy policy of the Matomo Cloud can be found here: <https://matomo.org/matomo-cloud-privacy-policy/>. The privacy policy of the Matomo website can be found here: <https://matomo.org/privacy-policy/>
